

The Lyme Regis Gig Club

Code of Conduct for Members

This code of conduct for members of the Lyme Regis Gig Club is a reflection of the broader code of conduct promoted by the Cornish Pilot Gig Association, to promote the sport of social, leisure and competitive open water rowing in the tradition of our ancestors who carried pilots to waiting vessels, and the RNLi who used the Gig to save lives at sea.

Lyme Regis Pilot Gig Club members are committed to the well being and safety of all.

Members will promote the benefits of our sport in participation, both socially and in competition.

The members will follow the rules and guidelines as set out by the Pilot Gig Association, typically Child Protection, Sea Safety, Health & Safety and Racing Rules.

Members shall encourage all participants to value their performance.

Members shall set a good example to all, they will accept the umpires decision, and maintain composure at all times.

The members will be expected to demonstrate proper standards of behaviour language and manner when representing the club.

The members will promote the positive aspects of our sport, especially those of Sportsmanship, Fairplay, Friendship and Respect.

Members will be prepared to accept responsibility for their actions at all times.
